

WHY SCRANTON?

Excellence in academic and professional competencies. Jesuit values. Successful outcomes. You'll find all of this — and more — when you choose The University of Scranton for your Master of Science degree in education. Our dedicated faculty will work alongside you as you pursue a higher level of education through our state approved programs.

FILLING A GROWING NEED

- Obtaining an advanced degree often provides additional educational certification as well as incremental gains on a school's pay scale.
- Special education program is newly revised to meet the latest state standards, with an emphasis of developing working knowledge of responsible inclusion.
- Special education program was identified as one of the most affordable among private non-profit schools offering a master's degree in special education.
- Secondary education students achieving certification in any of the areas offered can expand their certification areas by taking targeted state examinations.

AT A GLANCE

- Offers two distinct master's degree programs: secondary education (MS) and special education (MS)
- Committed to improving education by preparing informed, inquiring and skilled professionals who are ready to take their place as leaders in the educational community
- Offers opportunities for continued professional growth for practicing educators
- Assists in the educational growth and development of the community (3m si 0.5 0 Td (de)-8.3 (c)-3.5 (i)-3.9 (s)-6.4 (i) 0.5 (

GETTING RECOGNIZED

R

significant work experiences to the classroom experience.

- Work alongside a faculty mentor who will assist with academic planning throughout the program.

APPLY NOW

The priority application deadline is March 1st for admission into the fall term. Later applications will be considered if program capacity allows. To apply to a graduate education program and for additional admission information, please visit scranton.edu/gradapply.